

Bullying Prevention and Intervention

Results and Benefits of

The Grow With Guidance System Bullying Formula

Schools, communities, and families can break the bullying cycle and help students develop their spirit, purpose, and potential when:

- students feel connected with the schooling process,
- students are comfortable in classrooms,
- student–teacher and student–student relationships are viewed as a major factor in bullying behavior,
- students see peers as someone to help and not someone to “beat,”
- educators teach and students learn the personal, social, emotional, and behavioral skills needed to communicate and belong,
- those in authority know and identify child-abuse warning signs,
- students learn how to have healthy relationships at school,
- classroom climates are inviting,
- families receive the support and help they need, and
- school districts, families, and communities have a comprehensive plan for stopping the cycle of destructive behaviors.

Reference:

Teaching and Counseling for Today's World

Chapter 14: Bullying Behavior Formula

This formula summary provides the results and benefits of implementing the Bullying Formula discussed in detail in Chapter 14.

For a complimentary copy of Teaching and Counseling for Today's World and a complimentary conference call complete and submit the CONTACT US form at gwg@allsucceed.com
(No Fees for Domestic Requests. Actual Fees Charged for International Requests.)